Part 9: Last notes

- According to Swiss law, the candidate must come from an equivalent high school, such as the GKD, whose students usually go to university after graduation. In a different school system, the school or department of education must prove that the school complies with this standard.
- According to the law, the candidate must have the B1 certificate in German by the beginning of the semester. This B1 certificate qualifies the student to study in Europe for eight years.
- The transition should be smooth, from one grade in the home country to the next highest grade at GKD (Exceptions should be communicated early).
- The candidate may not be more than two years younger or older than his classmates;
- The average of all relevant marks in the last certificate (to be presented) before entering the GKD should be $\geq 85\%$ and no relevant mark below 80%.
